RECOMMENDATION

To whom it may concern,

it is a great honor to write a recommendation for Enes Dedic. Until recently, I was Enes Dedic's director. I consider him a pleasant, generous person who has successfully tackled all business challenges and who has been an extremely reliable employee.

Enes is a capable, independent person with pronounced communication skills and successfully masters the requirements of various business tasks. During his work here at 'IDK STUDIO' Enes made an exceptional contribution to increasing the efficiency and quality of our daily business, he worked as a Web and App developer.

In addition to being professional and dedicated to his job, Enes has become a good friend to many of us. We are proud of our corporate values to which Enes, as a cheerful and kind person, has made a significant contribution. He always took on himself the task of informal business gatherings and team building, which is why he was an important link in our small business community that kept us together. He thus provided us with a series of beautiful and fun moments that we fondly remember even today.

Although we are all sad that Enes no longer will be part of our team, I would sincerely recommend him as a employee in your company. Enes is a real team player, a pleasant and accommodating person who performs everyday tasks with incredible ease and in whom you can always trust.

Letter of Recommendation

To Whom It May Concern,

This letter is my personal recommendation for Enes Dedić.

Until recently, Enes Dedić was under my immediate supervision for three years while he was working as an intern in WWT DOO.

I have been consistently impressed with Enes's attitude and productivity during the time he worked in the company. Enes is both, very bright and quite motivated. He is also a passionate, hardworking, and very optimistic person. He showed a will to learn and work from the start of the internship. Enes's personal strengths are as impressive as his intellectual accomplishments. His cheerful nature and openness to feedback means he's always learning and growing as a worker, an impressive strength that will continue to serve him well in his life and work.

Enes has been effective in both frontend and backend development. He was our main mobile app developer. Enes worked on developing our company CRM system and numerous applications for our clients. His creativeness and logic sense improved results of our company and automated various processes. Knowledge of both backend and fronted languages and frameworks (Laravel, React, Android Studio...), great teamwork and intelligence made Enes one of our most valuable developers.

I recommend Mr. Dedić without reservation. I am confident he will establish a productive relationship with any and every future team member.

Please don't hesitate to contact me at d.selmanovic@wwtravel.net if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Denis Selmanović, CEC
